DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to because it is unclear what reference number 14 is representing since it is pointing at two different parts, the path and multipliers. In the specification, element number 14 is referred to as M multipliers (Specification page 7, paragraph 0014). Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Katz (U.S. 6,763,237).

With respect to claim 19, Katz discloses a method of optimizing transmit covariance for multiple antenna transmitter (Column 3, lines 28-31). Katz discloses determining spatial steering of parallel symbol streams and transmit power of each symbol stream based on statistical distribution of a channel according to figure 5a, 5b, and 5c and determining a transmission power for each symbol stream that tracks optimal transmission power for the symbol stream based on previously determined transmission power for the symbol stream (Column 7, line 21- Column 8, line 11).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 12-18 are allowed.

With respect to claim 12, the specific technique of “determining a first possible transmission power based on a k th transmission power for the symbol stream, where k represents an interval of time, determining a second possible transmission power based on the k th transmission power for the symbol stream and the statistical distribution of the channel, and determining the $(k+1)$ th transmission power for the symbol stream based on the first and second possible transmission powers” was neither found nor fairly suggested in the prior art.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Larsson (U.S. 6,707,862) discloses transmitter using previous power and other channel information for setting current values. Jeong et al. (U.S. 6,760,567) disclose measuring the quality of a channel using statistical distribution parameters.
